CONSULTANCY FOR INCLUSIVE CROSS BORDER TRADE AT MOYALE

BACKGROUND

I. ABOUT TRADEMARK AFRICA (TMA)

TradeMark Africa (TMA), formerly TradeMark East Africa, is a leading African Aid-for-Trade organisation that was established in 2010, with the aim to grow intra-African trade and increase Africa's share in global trade, while helping make trade more pro-poor and more environmentally sustainable.

TMA operates on a not-for-profit basis and is funded by: Belgium, the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Canada, Denmark, the European Union, Finland, France, Ireland, the MasterCard Foundation, the Netherlands, Norway, the United Kingdom, and the United States of America. TMA works closely with regional and continental inter-governmental organisations, national Governments, the private sector, and civil society.

Since its inception, TMA has delivered substantial gains for trade and regional economic integration in East Africa and the Horn of Africa, including a reduction of 16.5% in cargo transit times on the Northern Corridor from Mombasa to Bujumbura, and a reduction of an average of 70% in the time taken to cross selected one stop border posts. TMA officially launched its continental-wide shift and rebrand in West Africa in January 2023, with Ghana being the first country of operations in the region.

In 2022, TMA set up a catalytic finance company – Trade Catalyst Africa – that will pilot commercially viable projects for creating trade infrastructure (both physical and digital) as well as increasing access to Trade Finance for Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs).

Both TCA's and TMA's headquarters are in Nairobi, Kenya. Offices are in: EAC Secretariat - Arusha, Burundi, the Democratic Republic of Congo, Djibouti, Ethiopia, Ghana, Malawi, Rwanda, Somaliland, Tanzania, and Uganda, with operations in Mozambique, South Sudan, and Zambia. 2. CONTEXT

Informal cross-border trade along the vast Ethiopia–Kenya borders is pervasive. It constitutes a significant part of total trade in the area. Since most of the trade at this border is not registered, the exact amount is not known.

Despite significant corridor development and relevant trade facilitation mechanisms, cross-border trade between Ethiopia and its neighbours remains underdeveloped. Supporting and formalising cross border trade and increasing the value of traders' businesses could significantly contribute to Ethiopia's inclusive growth and improve the lives of many.

Numerous studies highlight that border economies, especially in Africa, benefit greatly from cross-border trade because it enhances food security, provides employment and allows millions of people to have access to goods and services unavailable in their own countries, or at cheaper prices.

The World Bank's 2021 report titled "A Review of Cross-Border Trade in the Horn of Africa" provides a comprehensive analysis of cross-border trade dynamics in the region, focusing primarily on Ethiopia, Kenya, Somalia/Somaliland, Djibouti, and Eritrea. The report highlights that unrecorded trade, referred to as "informal cross-border trade," constitutes a significant portion of overall trade in the Horn of Africa. For instance, Ethiopia's exports to neighbouring countries are estimated to exceed officially recorded trade figures by a factor of 30 or more, indicating a vast amount of trade that goes unaccounted for in official statistics. The World Bank states that women traders' cross borders every day to buy and sell goods thus making a major contribution to the welfare of their families and communities. Often, they play a key role in food security, trading basic food products from areas where they are comparatively cheap to others where they are in short supply.

TMA with the support of its donors have invested in the Moyale Safe Trade Zone. Moyale market, was constructed as part of TMA's Safe Trade Emergency response during the C-19 pandemic to promote the resilience of women traders. With the hard infrastructure in place, it is important to ensure the requisite capacity building initiatives are provided for the women traders to take advantage of cross border trade and market opportunities.

3. OBJECTIVES

In the Horn of Africa, visibly, many cross-border traders are women traders who, by crossing borders every day and selling their products, make a major contribution to the welfare of their families and communities. Often, they play a key role in food security, carrying basic food products from areas where they are comparatively cheap to others where they are in short supply. Characteristically, women cross border traders face significant challenges that hinder their active participation in cross border trade. Some of the challenges they face include:

- Limited access to markets, trade and market information, and other trade support services. Access to up-to-date market information (such as market prices), awareness of quality and standards compliance requirements, and trading rights and obligations, remains low amongst cross border traders.
- Informality and weak trader capacity. The majority of the cross-border traders in the Horn of Africa are informal. The nature of informal trade is that it excludes the participants from accessing some opportunities offered to formal businesses. Informal trade often results in low-value trade and low survival rates for these women cross border traders. Additionally, the traders may lack skills such as financial literacy, business management, entrepreneurship, amongst others that can grow their businesses.
- Limited access to finance and capital to finance their businesses. The required conditions set by the financial sector for obtaining loans may be unattainable for a majority of the women cross border traders such as collateral or lack of savings. Additionally, high interest rates, may often be a deterrent for the women traders in accessing these loans. Even if financing opportunities exist for small scale cross border traders, they might not be aware of them.
- Lack of, and weak trade associations and representation. Business associations are one of the best vehicles for reaching, sensitising, and empowering women in trade. However, these associations face challenges related to weak governance structures, donor dependence and weak technical capacity which hinders their ability to pro-actively advocate for and represent women traders. Strong associations, clusters and cooperatives can provide members with services like bulking, storage, sourcing for new markets which could lead to reduction in trading costs. Underrepresentation in decision making forums such as those at the local and national levels (joint border management committees, national trade policy committees) further hinders women's active participation in trade. Strong associations advocate on behalf of their members and ensure adequate representation in policy roundtables to foster inclusivity.

The construction of the Moyale market supported by TMA has provided an opportunity for women to trade with dignity and to ensure their livelihoods are not disrupted. However, it is important to ensure that the traders adhere to public health protocols to ensure their trade is safe. As such, the overarching objective of this consultancy is to design, and deliver a skills enhancement programme for women traders from both Ethiopia and Kenya at Moyale.

The capacity building programme will complement the market construction at Moyale and provide skills to 250 women traders to ultimately increase the participation in cross border trade.

4. RECIPIENT

The direct recipient of the deliverables will be identified women traders in Moyale, Moyale City Administration.

5. SCOPE OF THE WORK AND DELIVERABLES

Working closely with TMA, the consultant will be expected to design and deliver, a skills enhancement programme for the women cross border traders and facilitate the implementation of the Simplified Trade Regime (STR) along the Moyale Border. The programme will be designed and rolled out based on the identified needs and knowledge gaps of women traders. The consultant will ensure timely, implementation of the planned capacity building activities in collaboration with the regional and city administration offices and women and children offices. The assignment will have two components:

Component One: Increase capacity (skills and knowledge) of targeted women, youth, to participate in cross border trade

Component Two: Facilitate the implementation of the Simplified Trade Regime at Moyale OSBP

Component Three: Technical note and short presentation on results, lesson learning and key messages from components 2 and 3

5.1. COMPONENT ONE

Design a capacity building programme for the women traders at Moyale Market built with TMA support.

- i. conduct a rapid assessment to inform the design of the capacity building programme. (Includes capacity gaps, literacy levels for the target beneficiaries and other relevant areas)
- ii. prepare a curriculum that is informed by the capacity gaps and literacy levels identified in the rapid assessment.
- iii. broadly, the programme should ensure it also focuses on building skills of the women traders to address the challenges identified in section 2 (including but not limited to record keeping, financial accounting and product marketing to enable women in selected value chains)
- iv. For the public health aspects, the curriculum will also be informed by the relevant and existing government protocols.

Deliver a capacity building programme:

- i. Prepare relevant capacity building and training manuals in English, Oromia and Somali Languages
- ii. Identify and train 200 women traders (including those operating in the market) based on the curriculum developed.
- iii. Train women traders on the utilization of STR regime to export to cross border market using simplified trade and customs procedures and at a reduced cost and provide training on product marketing. In addition, cross learning opportunities in more developed cross border markets will be explored.

- iv. Also, using the trainer of trainers approach, identify and train women as champions to disseminate learning from the programme to more women traders.
- v. Develop a sustainability plan informed by the women traders to ensure dissemination of knowledge and ensure that the market operates as a safe trade zone observing all the required public health protocols.

Monitoring and Evaluation:

- i. Update a Ethiopia Country Results framework at outcomes and outputs level to show the status of the programme's indicators.
- ii. Prepare a progress report at the end of the programme.
- iii. Position TMA to participate in regular implementation team meetings to track progress

5.2. COMPONENT TWO

The absence of a Simplified Trade Regime (STR) at the Moyale border between Kenya and Ethiopia significantly impacts cross-border trade, particularly for small-scale traders and women. The lack of an STR requires new thinking. The border management at Moyale could enhance trade facilitation by documenting commonly traded goods at the border, simplifying customs procedures, reducing tariffs, and increasing transparency, ultimately benefiting small-scale traders and the broader economy. The status of the STR was analysed by TMA in 2023 and the key status, gaps and barriers are documented and will make up the initial sequence of issues to facilitate the process – cross border system – that can be established at the Moyale border. The STR will only succeed with the collaboration, commitment and engagement of both governments at a local, regional and federal level. The consultant will undertake a political economy analysis aimed at advocating and lobbying, in a transparent manner, both governments to set a pathway to realise the policy direction provided by the then Head of States when they launched cross border trading system in 2015.
